FOREWORD

This, the second volume of the ZENITH, is an endeavor to portray life at High Point College as it really is. Realizing the responsibility which is ours, we have tried to embody in this volume an idea of the College, its faculty, classes and extra curricula activities. If this book succeeds in picturing High Point College and its life as you see it, and serves to keep thoughts of your associations there fresh in your memory, it will have achieved its purpose.

worked for this college when it was only a visionary institution. His interest in it, and his labors for it, showed that he had a great concern for the welfare of the young people of today. His sincere endeavors and his ability led the directors of the College to make him its first president. In this capacity he has, for four years, faithfully guided and directed its progress. To him, the first President of High Point College, we dedicate this volume of

For you we'll always fight.
We want the right
To uphold thy standards high;
To give the best we have to thee,

LUCILE GARNETT HINSHAW, Mascot

HIGH POINT, N. C.

The most unanimous vote of the Class of '28 would be that Garnett, little daughter of Prof. and Mrs. C. R. Hinshaw, is the finest little mascot a class could have.

Winsome and charming, her golden curls and big blue eyes have charmed each member of the class and it is certain that none of us will ever forget the lovely little mascot in her "senior" cap and gown.

GEORGE WILLIAM ANDREW, A. B.

MARION, IND.

Chaplain Thalean Literary Society, 3; Chaplain Ministerial Association, 3; President Ministerial Association, 4; Critic Thalean Literary Society, 4; President Y. M. C. A., 4; President Thalean Literary Society, 4; Inter-Collegiate Debater, 3, 4.

"Here is a man to hold against the world, a man to match the mountains and the sea." In the magnetic personality of George Andrew we find embodied all the characteristics of a true Christian gentleman. These qualities, together with the fine character and exceptional abilities as a debater, have won for him a host of friends. His portrayal of Christian leadership has been shown in the Y. M. C. A., literary merit in his literary society, and altruism in pastoral work. In scholarship he has no superior. He stands out in the alumni roster as one of our best all-round men.

Senior Class

PTYLLA E. BINGHAM, A.B.

FALLSTON, N. C.

Thalean Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Member Ministerial Association, 2, 3, 4; Scientific Society, 2, 3; Christian Endeavor Extension, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President Thalean Society, 1; Chaplain Thalean Society, 2; Vice-President Ministerial Association, 3; Assistant Secretary Thalean Society, 4.

"Do what's right, come what may." Ptylla is a true Christian gentleman, what more could we say? Quiet, congenial, dependable—are words that best describe him. He belongs to the conscientious, studious type and possesses intellectual ability and determination. Thoughtfulness for others is his first objective.

Ptylla is one of those men who has not attempted to gain campus popularity, but has always placed his studies first. He may be pastor of the largest church in North Carolina, and he may have a more humble parish, but wherever he is called to serve we dare say he'll be a success.

LILLIE MAE BRAXTON, A.B.

SNOW CAMP, N. C.

Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Treasurer, 1; Christian Endeavor Vice-President, 3; Christian Endeavor Extension Club President, 4; Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2; Chaplain Artemesian Literary Society, 1; Alamance County Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; President Alamance County Club, 4; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 2, 3; Secretary Paracelsus Society, 2; Nikanthan Literary Society, 3, 4; Vice-President Modern Priscilla Club, 4; Dramatic Work Shop, 4.

"To know her is to love her." Lillie Mae possesses one of the most charming personalities that is to be found in our class. Quiet, reserved, appreciative, and lady-like qualities are dominant in her character. Combined with her noble ideals is the very desirable ability to say just the right thing at the right time, which has won for her a coveted place in the heart of everyone with whom she comes in contact. Never too busy to share the other's troubles, always ready to lend a helping hand; a true example of Christian womanhood—that's Lillie Mae.

Senior Class

LILLIAN NORVELLA BUCKNER, B.M.

LIBERTY, N. C.

Theta Phi; Artemesian Literary Society, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 3; Work Shop, 4; Glee Club, 4; Vice-President Artemesian Literary Society, 3; Pianist Artemesian Literary Society, 4; Secretary-Treasurer Randolph County Club, 3; Vice-President Randolph County Club, 4; President H. P. C. Music Club, 3; Assistant Manager Aeolian Choir, 3; Guilford College, 1, 2.

A unique, indefinable quality marks Lillian as outstanding in the Class of '28 in her ability to attract everyone to her—both boys and girls. She not only makes many friends but her friendships are always lasting. Considering her sunny disposition sympathetic understanding, and interesting personality, the large number of her friends is easily explained. "Jimps" is the only B.M. student of our class and is pianist in almost every organization to which she belongs. Although her chief interest rests in music and art, she has many outside interests. Lovely in character, face, and mind as the muse of the arts to which she has pledged her allegiance, it is small wonder that we pledge our allegiance to Lillian, the incomparable friend of friends.

MINNIE IRENE CAFFEY, A.B.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Sigma Alpha Phi; Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor, 4; Critic Artemesian Society, 4; Work Shop, 4; Hiking Club, 4; Razzers, 4; Guilford County Club, 2, 3, 4; Class Poet, 4; Inter-Society Debater, 3; Inter-Collegiate Debater, 4; President Forensic Council, 4.

"To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield." "Mic" delves deeply into life, plans the course that she will follow, and in a capable, business-like manner, brings those things to pass which she wishes. She does "what many dream of all their lives." You would not soon forget "Mic." She has the happy combination of a truly brilliant mind coupled with a distinctly individual personality of such a force that it makes itself felt in any group. When we want a person who will understand, we go to "Mic." She will sympathize with our moods, be they gay or serious. When we want advice, we call on "Mic." When we want to get pepped up and are in search of a good time, we drop by "Mic's" room. Do you wonder that we all love "Mic"?

Senior Class

JAMES ELWOOD CARROLL, A.B.

REIDSVILLE, N. C.

Iota Tau Kappa; President Class, 4; Inter-Collegiate Debate Team, 2, 3, 4; Football Team, 2, 4; Band, 2, 3, 4; President Band, 4; Secretary Band 3; Thalean Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; President Thalean Literary Society, 2; Treasurer Thalean Literary Society, 3; Reporter Thalean Literary Society, 4; Ministerial Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; President Ministerial Association, 1, 4; Secretary Ministerial Association, 3; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 2, 3, 4; Chapel Monitor, 2, 3, 4; Head Monitor Men's Student Government, 4; S. Carroll's place in H. P. C. is unique. A debater, an athlete, a preacher, he is the most versatile man on the campus. He has been a successful intercollegiate debater for three successive years and is outstanding in his literary society work. He was voted the best all-round student in his junior year and the most valuable member of the senior class. His ability is also shown by the fact that he plays in the college band and is a member of practically every organization on the campus. In him we find a true Christian friend. His sarcasm is sometimes biting but his big heart has won for him the confidence of everyone. We are proud to have him as president of our class.

MARY LOIS COBLE, A.B.

GRAHAM, N. C.

Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 2, 3, 4; Alamance County Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Extension Club, 2, 3, 4; Monitor Artemesian Literary Society, 4; Secretary Paracelsus Scientific Society, 4.

Here's one who is always cheerful, seldom sad;
 One who looks for good among the bad.
 She's one who never acts cross ways,
 Even on test days;
 One who faces hardships in best style—
 With a smile.
 She's one who is eager to help everyone she can,
 In all the ways she can.
 She's everybody's friend, and to all the same—
 Lois is her name.

Senior Class

EMILY SPENCER CUTCHIN, A.B.

WHITAKERS, N. C.

Theta Phi; Choral Society 1; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2; Secretary Artemesian Literary Society, 2; Christian Endeavor Extension Club, 2, 3, 4; Down East Club, 2, 3, 4; Secretary Down East Club, 3; Nikanathan Literary Society, 3, 4; Home Economics, 3; Dramatic Work Shop, 4; Critic Nikanathan Society, 4; President Spanish Club, 4.

Our Spencer's soft brown eyes just see the dreams of delicate sound and imagery that Spencer, the poet, fashioned long ago. She has caught, withal, a vision of true womanliness—that wonderful mixture of love, sweetness and laughter. Entering school the first year of its existence, she has grown up with and into the college. Her going will leave a yawning gap that only time can fill, yet we bravely smile. The attainment of her high ideals and ambitions will only bring honor to our Alma Mater in the years to come.

MARY VISTA DIXON

LIBERTY, N. C.

Theta Phi; Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Nurse, 2, 3, 4; Corresponding Secretary Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Guilford County Club 1, 2, 3; Student Volunteer Group, 1, 2; Treasurer Girls Student Council, 1; Extension, 2, 3, 4; Modern Priscilla Club, 2, 3; Work Shop, 4.

The girl with red hair, piercing brown eyes, and a jolly disposition—yes that's Vista. She is always full of fun, kind to everybody and willing to bear the burdens of all friends and associates. Her heart is so big that service for others is her aim and her joy. The dark side of life she never sees. Those who know her can not fail to appreciate the excellent qualities so bountifully bestowed upon her. In all her works she is good, but best in Home Economics.

Senior Class

JAMES JASPER ELLINGTON, A.B.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Football, 2, 4; "Torch" Staff; "Hi Po" Staff; Advertising Manager "Zenith," 3; Dramatic Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Monogram Club, 2, 3, 4; Akrothian Literary Society, 3, 4.

Jimmie of somewhat distinguished bearing and a remarkable aptitude for originating and perpetrating jokes and pranks, rose to prominence immediately after enlisting in the class. His genial nature is exhilarating, it is positively devoid of all that is depressing. It is a pleasure and a tonic to be near him, and enter into conversation with him.

He is the most talented actor in the college, and can impersonate as many characters as Lon Chaney. He is a strong athlete, a practical business man, and an all-round capable student. Surely one of his calibre should feel no doubts for the future.

FLOYD RICHARD GARRETT, A.B.

JULIAN, N. C.

Thalcan Literary Society, 2, 3, 4; Thalcan Society Secretary, 2; Thalcan Society Reporter, 3; President Band, 3; Assistant Business Manager "Hi Po," 3; Secretary Men's Student Government, 3; Editor-in-Chief "Hi Po," 4; Christian Endeavor Chorister, 4; Band Librarian, 4; Y. M. C. A., 4.

In Garrett we have found a student and thinker of unusual ability. Such is evidenced by his record and leadership as one of the outstanding members of all his classes. Friendly, genial, and a man with high ideals and principles, we see in him the making of a real citizen. In scholarship he is genuine, persistent, and effective; on the campus he is sincere and practical; and in extra-curricular activities he is always "there" especially in the field of journalism, literary society activity, and "social hour." We pride ourselves in claiming him as an alumnus of High Point College.

Senior Class

RAYMOND T. HALLOCK, A.B.

EASTPORT, LONG ISLAND, N. Y.

Thalean Literary Society, 3, 4; Ministerial Association, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 3, 4; Young Men's Christian Association, 4.

"None but himself can be his parallel." Self-confidence, dignity, ability and sincerity are all combined in the most unusual personality that High Point College has ever known. Hallock came to us two years ago from Westminster Theological Seminary and from the very first his productive intellect has been felt on the campus. His peculiar way of meeting life presents a unique contrast with that of his serious nature; he constantly overflows with songs and laughter. His deep analysis of religious problems and his superior nature have won for him a lasting memory in the minds of the entire class.

FRED THOMAS HAUSER, B.S.

PILOT MOUNTAIN, N. C.

Kappa Phi; Varsity Football, 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Basketball, 1; Varsity Baseball, 1; President Student Senate, 3; President Pre-Med Club, 3; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; President Paracelsus Society, 2; Akrothionian Literary Society, 3, 4; Vice-President Akrothionian Society, 3; Secretary Akrothionian Society, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Work Shop, 4; Monogram Club, 2, 3, 4; Western Club, 3; President Western Club, 3.

Physical strength, mental ability, and virility of the highest type, are the outstanding characteristics of "Boob" Hauser. Medicine is his goal, but his varied honors show his versatility. He is loyal, dependable, and jovial in a crisis, and a clear thinker. For a man with ideals, and with the ability to achieve all of them, we know of no finer. On the gridiron, a clean Panther; in the class room, a student; and in every position in which he has been honored, a favorite. He has one fault, however; he loves a lover—and she does, too. We're looking at you, "Boob."

Senior Class

HELEN HILLIARD HAYES, A.B.

HENDERSON, N. C.

Theta Phi; Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President C. E. Society, 1; Down East Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; President Down East Club, 3; Secretary Down East Club, 1, 2; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 1, 2; Assistant "Torch" Editor, 1, 2; Assistant Editor "Hi Po," 3; Assistant Editor "Zenith," 3; Dramatic Club, 1, 2, 3; Forensic Council, 3; Secretary Pan-Hellenic Council, 3, 4; Inter-Society Debater; Inter-collegiate Debater; President Work Shop, 4.

An outstanding pioneer of High Point College and the Class of '28, Helen's capable initiative and application place her firmly on the topmost rungs of our own private ladder of fame. Her leadership in so many phases of college activities clearly demonstrates her all-round abilities. High ideals and ambitious characterize her. She will leave a big vacancy in the whole college curricula for we feel that no one can quite impart her interest and enthusiasm in studies, athletics, religious activities, dramatics, social life, and college spirit. Those of us who have known her "starward eyes" in these four years, predict for Helen the top rung in the world's ladder of fame.

EMILY AILEEN HENDRICKS, A.B.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Nikanthan Society, 4; Guilford County Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 4; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 4.

When Aileen came to us four years ago she brought with her two very valuable traits of character, modesty and industry. These two qualities coupled with a sunny smile, have gained for her a successful college career, many enduring friendships, and an assured advancement in her chosen work.

Psychology is Aileen's hobby, and she puts her knowledge of this subject into practical use. In her presence we often feel that, in her quiet way, she is "sizing" us up. With her knowledge of "introspection" and "behavior" those are fortunate who get her good opinion. Aileen hasn't told us, but we believe she is going to be a teacher—happy will be the school room that she keeps. But she won't teach long; she loves a home too well.

Senior Class

REED LAWTON HILL, A.B.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Iota Tau Kappa; Vice-President Guilford County Club, 3; Vice-President Akrothionian Literary Society, 4; Thalean Literary Society, 1; Akrothionian Literary Society, 3, 4; Reporter Akrothionian Literary Society, 4; Monogram Club, 2, 3, 4; President Monogram Club, 4; Member Student Government 1; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 4; Varsity Football, 1, 2, 3; Varsity Basketball, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Baseball, 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain Football, 1; Captain Basketball, 2, 3, 4; Manager Baseball, 4.

Outstanding in his college work, in his social contacts and in his sportsmanlike qualities, and towering high with his record as an athlete, "Monk" is one of the best-known and best-loved members of his class.

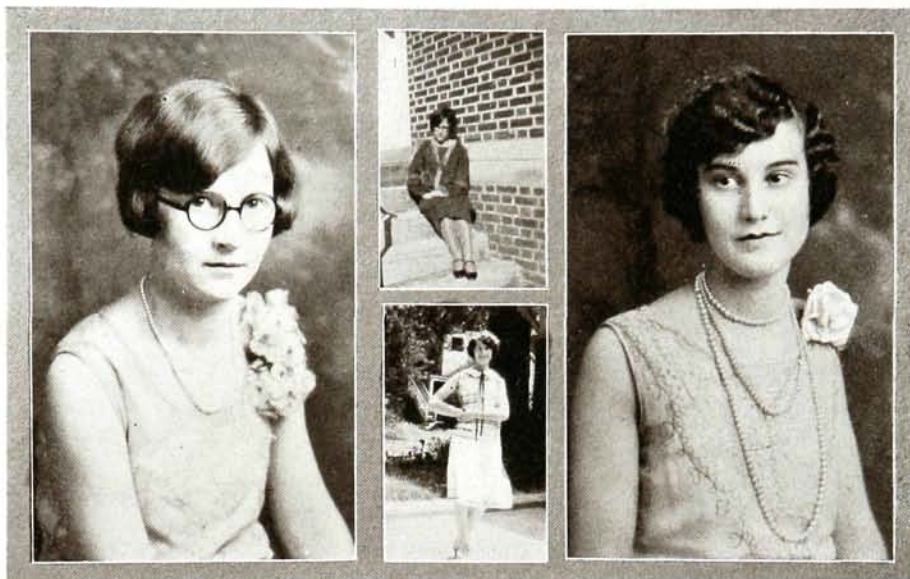

He has an enviable record as an athlete—has been on every varsity team except one in his four college years. He is a letter and star man in basketball, football and baseball, yet he carries his honors without affectation or display. We predict for "Monk" that his success in life will be as great as his success in college athletics.

JOSEPH WILLIAM HOLMES, A.B.

GRAHAM, N. C.

Iota Tau Kappa; Class President, 1; President Student Government, 1; Secretary Thalean Literary Society, 2; Manager Baseball, 1, 2; President Akrothionian Literary Society, 3; Critic Akrothionian Literary Society, 4; President Men's Student Government, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Monogram Club, 2, 3, 4; College Marshal, 3; Alamaance Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary Dramatic Club, 3; Class Treasurer, 3; Class Historian 4; Business Manager "Zenith" 4.

Joe Holmes is an outstanding man who keeps in the background by choice—his own choice. Being one of the most capable men that the Class of '28 has ever had, Joe has been honored with offices of varied responsibility, beginning with the class presidency in his freshman year. To the public, Joe is a quiet, dignified, capable, ambitious young man of sound character, with a smile and a friendly word for everybody. To his most intimate friends he is all of that and a lot more, but even they do not know him entirely, for there is an invisible barrier of reserve behind which Joe seems to take a final refuge—a place wherein he is free to meditate on the fallacies of humanity as a whole.

Senior Class

RUBY KATHRYN ISLEY

GRAHAM, N. C.

Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Alamance County Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Extension Group, 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 2, 3; Treasurer Dramatic Workshop, 4; Secretary Class, 2; Secretary Paracelsus Scientific Society, 3; Christian Endeavor Extension Club, 3; Modern Priscilla Club, 4; Reporter Alamance County Club, 4.

Whether skies are dark or sunny, Ruby is always a beam of light, and at the slightest provocation she bursts into genuine laughter. She has the wonderful ability of disposing of her troubles in such a way as never to burden her friends. She completes in a commendable way, all that she undertakes whether easy or difficult. Her optimism compensates for her lack of stature. Her ambition and ability in Home Economics foretell for her the greatest success. The best that may be said of any one may be said of Ruby. She possesses a true Christian character.

ANNIE LEE JARRELL, A.B.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Alpha Theta Psi; Vice-President Class, 3; Member Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2; Treasurer Artemesian Literary Society, 1; Guilford County Club, 2, 3, 4; Member Nikanthan Literary Society, 3, 4; Chaplain Nikanthan Society, 3; Member Modern Priscilla Club, 3, 4; Inter-Society Debater, 3; President Day Student Government, 4; Workshop, 4.

We usually look to different people for each of the qualities of intellect, beauty, attractiveness, and sportsmanship, but there is a girl who combines all of these into a wonderful personality—Annie Lee. Those who know her are won completely by her winsomeness and ability in every line. She overcomes all obstacles in her own sweet way and possesses such desirable traits that she is the very epitome of girlhood. We know that Annie Lee's remarkable personality including firm will, broad intellect, and keen sensibility will enable her to give and to receive the best in life. We wish that only, for there is nothing more to wish.

Senior Class

RUTH JARRELL, A.B.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Alpha Theta Psi; Vice-President Class, 1; Member Guilford County Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Member Artemesian Literary Society, 1; Member Nikanthan Literary Society, 3, 4; Monitor Nikanthan Society, 3; Work Shop, 4; "Hi-Pi" Reporter, 4.

The gods were good to us when they allowed Ruth to join our ranks and share the joys and trials of our struggle toward the coveted A.B. She has gained this goal in only three years and is the youngest member of the class. During her three years with us she has demonstrated a grand combination of unusual ability, loyalty and friendship. Ruth is an interesting type, full of rare wit which might at first be interpreted as sarcasm. Charm, individualism and efficiency are characteristics of hers. Ruth, we're betting on you, and we know that sometime, somewhere, "far from the madding crowd," we shall hear great things of you.

CANARY BELLE JOHNSON, A.B.

SEAGROVE, N. C.

Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Choral Society, 1, 2; Randolph County Club, 2, 3, 4; President Randolph County Club, 2, 3; Treasurer Artemesian Literary Society, 3; Aeolian Choir, 3; Society Editor "Hi-Po," 4; Razzers Club, 4.

Ever since Doc arrived in our midst her friendly disposition and spirit of comradeship have been dominant factors in creating our regard for her. Never glooming about with a long face, she imparts her cheerfulness with a lavish hand, and thus endears herself to all. She is interested in her school work, and conscientiously industrious in her application to her books, yet she always finds time to scout about with her friends, and enthusiastically enjoy whatever turns up—be it a hike to town or one of her numerous honor dates. Serious and lovable in her daily contacts and thoughts, Canary is a girl on whom one can always depend.

A lover of fun, yet serious when need be—that's Effie! We all know Effie to be the finest type of an all-round girl. She is a conscientious worker, a good sport, and has shown remarkable ability as a leader. Everyone knows her as a friend. Though her interests range from Home Economics to Dramatics, she is chiefly interested in religious work, in which we are sure she will prove a strong asset for good in life's great game. Here's to you, Effie; may your life be filled with happiness, as you continue to "Follow the Gleam."

JACOB HIMI KRESS, A.B.

No one, who is favored by his acquaintance, doubts that "Jake" will occupy a foremost place in future scientific circles. He assimilates knowledge with remarkable aptitude and is recognized by his classmates for his remarkable scholastic abilities. His knowledge is broad, he is one of those fortunates who "drink deep of the Pierian spring." He is modest—he who is not, has nothing to be modest over. He has a very practical mind a pleasing personality and many other amiable characteristics. To enumerate them would fill a great volume. There can be but the most brilliant future before him!

LEWIS CHARLES KRESS, B.S.

THOMASVILLE, N. C.

Vice-President Pre-Med Club, 4; Thalean Literary Society, 3, 4; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 3, 4; Western Club, 2, 3, 4.

With his scientific frame of mind it is evident that "Big Kress" will eventually achieve prominence in the field of work he undertakes. His affable disposition and tenacity of purpose have been demonstrated throughout his college years and the outstanding quality of his work is sufficient to prove these characteristics. In spite of his red hair, Lewis is good natured and friendly as is shown by his many friends and the admiration of all his classmates. "Big Kress" is a valuable member of the class of '28.

ALMA LEONARD LAMBETH, A.B.

TRINITY, N. C.

Nikanthan Literary Society, 4; Girls' Day Student Council, 4.

"In soul sincere, in action faithful, in honor clear." Your first impression of Alma is one of timidity and modesty. To see her is not to know her, but only by close friendship can you see the real girl and appreciate her real qualities. In her quiet and modest way she has been eager in making her life an interesting adventure in understanding. She has won when others would have given up in despair. She believes that "the true processes through which human beings make the most of themselves are: first, inspiration; second, affirmation; third, preparation." The future has for all characters like Alma whatever they desire.

W. RAYMOND LEMONS, A.B.

STOKESDALE, N. C.

Member Student Government, 1, 4; Thalean Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball Squad, 1; Football Squad, 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball Squad, 1; Vice-President Thalean Society, 1, 3; President Paracelsus Scientific Society, 4; Pre-Med Society, 2, 3, 4; Member Guilford County Club; Member Monogram Club, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4.

In the due course of events, we always observe that the individual must either find himself a place or make one. "Dink" Lemons has not only found himself a place in the hearts of his classmates and instructors, but has shown his worthiness to hold such a place. "Dink" has been an outstanding man throughout his four years at High Point College. In the classroom, in athletics, and in extra-curricula activities of all kinds, his sincerity of purpose and desire to succeed have brought him a great deal of distinction. We predict unlimited success for him in whatever he undertakes.

ANNIE ELIZABETH LIVENGOOD, A.B.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Sigma Alpha Phi; Girls' Student Council, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Extension Club, 2, 3; Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2; Guilford County Club, 2, 3, 4; President Guilford County Club, 2; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President Paracelsus Society, 4; Leader Student Volunteer Group, 2; Nikanathan Literary Society, 3, 4; President Student Volunteer Group, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 3; Modern Priscilla Club, 4; Chaplain Nikanathan Society, 4; Critic Dramatic Club, 4; Critic Christian Endeavor, 4; Critic Christian Endeavor Club, 4; Critic Girls' Student Council, 4.

A merry laugh, a winning smile, that's Annie. Her cheerful disposition and sincerity can not help but win her friends. She enters into both the social and religious life of the school, and what she undertakes to do, she does with her whole heart and soul. Though she takes a heavy "off-campus correspondence course," she is never neglectful of her class work and Student Volunteer. In a few years from now a country somewhere on this earth is going to be much fuller of love on account of her influence. We know Annie will come out on top without the best wishes of '28—but here they are, in big numbers.

T. GLENN MADISON, A.B.

OLIN, N. C.

Epsilon Eta Phi; Thalean Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; President Thalean Literary Society, 1; Treasurer Thalean Literary Society, 2; Secretary Thalean Literary Society, 1; President Thalean Literary Society, 3; Debating Coach, 3; Thalean Chaplain, 4; Christian Endeavor President, 2; Ministerial Association Treasurer, 2; Secretary, 3; Vice-President, 4; Paracelsus Scientific Society, Vice-President, 4; Western Club, President, 4; Men's Student Council, 2, 4; Critic Thalean Literary Society, 4; Assistant Treasurer Y. M. C. A., 4; Debating Team, 3, 4.

To look at Madison, one would think he saw only the serious side of life, but he has a sense of humor excelled by few. He is self-reliant in all his pursuits and has won the confidence of both students and faculty. Dora and Religious Education were his majors while in college, and his life will be "a further pursuit of these subjects." Madison entered our class with the idea that he had been called to the ministry, and his Christian character, his ability, and sincerity in the work, portends for him the highest success in the future.

ANNIE LUCILLE MORRISON, A.B.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Alpha Theta Psi; Member Artemesian Literary Society, 2; Guilford County Club, 2, 3, 4; President Guilford County Club, 3; Nikanthan Literary Society, 3; Marshal, 3; President Nikanthan Literary Society, 4; Girls' Day Student Government, 4; Spanish Club, 4; Inter-Society Debater, 4.

In Lucille we find a pleasing blend of scholarship, leadership and unassuming modesty. Her high scholarship earned for her in her junior year the name of most studious girl at High Point College. While she is an excellent student she by no means shuts herself off from other forms of school activity, for she is also an enthusiastic athletics "fan." That she is an able leader has been demonstrated by her capable piloting of the Nikanthan Literary Society through its second year of growth. But with all her ability, leadership, and her excellence in scholarship, she still remains sweet, modest, unspoiled; a generous friend. It is easy to see why "Cille" is so generally popular.

Senior Class

MAX PARRISH, A.B.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Delta Alpha Epsilon; Akrothian Literary Society, 3, 4; Assistant Advertising Manager "Zenith," 3; Assistant Business Manager "Hi Po," 4; Y. M. C. A. Member, 4; Guilford County Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Here's to a regular fellow—a hard worker, a sincere friend, an enthusiastic supporter for all that is right and good, and above all, a gentleman! These admirable qualities combined with an attractive personality have won for Max the respect and admiration of all those with whom he has come in contact. "A star with the ladies, and a sheik on the ballroom floor"—that's Max. He's really in his element when he is dancing, as can be proved by his countless number of friends and acquaintances. He has brought a never-to-be-forgotten personality into the class of '28 and it is with a feeling of irreparable loss that we see him leave.

PERCY MARSHALL PASCHALL, A.B.

RIDGEWAY, N. C.

Iota Tau Kappa; Akrothian Literary Society, 3, 4; Down East Club, 2, 3, 4; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 2, 3, 4; Football Squad, 1, 3, 4; Basketball Squad, 1; Dramatic Club, 2, 3; President Akrothian Literary Society, 3; President Down East Club, 3; Student Government Council, 3, 4; Monogram Club, 3, 4; Athletic Editor "Zenith," 3; Christian Endeavor, 1, 2, 3, 4; Reporter Akrothian Society, 3; Critic Akrothian Society, 4.

To find one word that describes Pat is impossible. He's a composite of many—preparedness, sportsmanship, individuality, humor, intellect, and a host of other terms of the superlative type may be used unrestrainedly. Pat is a true definition of a good "all-round" student.

High Point College opened its doors with Pat waiting to enter. Since then he has made himself an integral part of the activities of the school. The challenge is flung out for one to find a truer I. T. K. brother, a superior Akrothian, and a better student.

Senior Class

DORA ELLEN PEARSON, A.B.

FRANKLIN, VA.

Class Secretary, 4; Nikanthan Literary Society, 3, 4; Treasurer Woman's Student Government, 2; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 2; Modern Priscilla Club, 3, 4; Secretary of Christian Endeavor Extension Club, 2, 3; Out-of-State Club, 2, 4; Down East Club, 3.

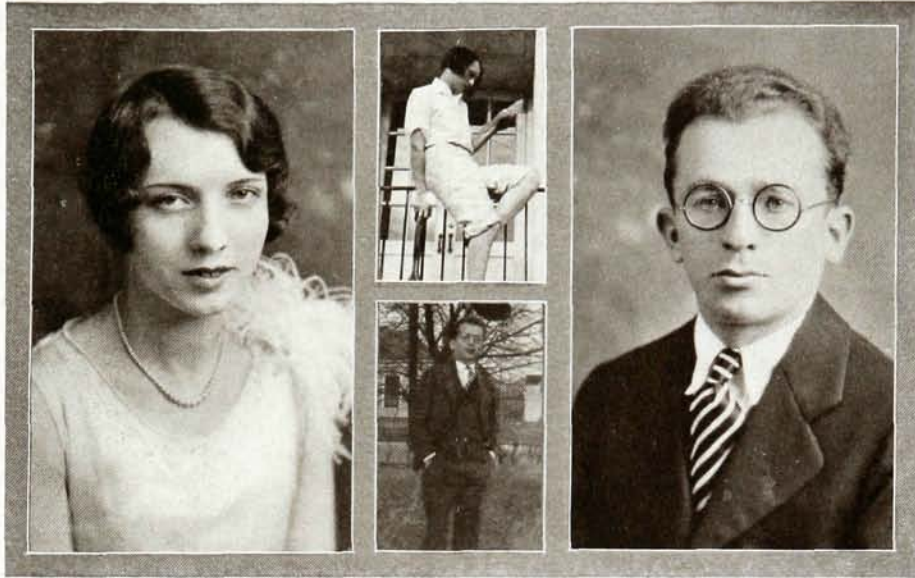

As the poet has said, Dora is "just the quiet kind whose natures never vary." Like a wee brown sparrow she fits from place to place quite noiselessly except for occasional twitters of delight. No one knows just what lies back of her soberly exterior but some day the world will know. The realization of her dreams must surely come. We can desire nothing more than the attainment of her high ideals and ambitions. All who know her are impressed by her strength of character, sweet temper, and gentle nature. It is thought that one of Cupid's dainty arrows is lodged in the breast of our little brown sparrow.

VIRGINIA BRITT PICKENS, A.B.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Theta Phi; Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Guilford County Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2; President Dramatic Club, 2; Vice-President Artemesian Literary Society, 2; Cheering One Hundred, 3.

Under Virginia's mask of indifference is a real friend whose charm wins the hearts of those around her. She may be called the "Sphinx" of our class, for her fascination and indefinable air of mystery keeps us guessing what she will do next. She does as she pleases and "doesn't give a rip" how others take it, but the beauty of it is she usually knows what pleases. Individuality is expressed in everything she does. She is attractive, friendly, capable, a good sport, and in short, just a dear, sweet girl. Her future—will it be as a teacher or as a druggist's assistant? Only time will tell. Here's luck to you, "Ginger."

Senior Class

BESSIE REDWINE, A.B.

LEXINGTON, N. C.

Sigma Alpha Phi; Artemesian Literary Society, 2, 3, 4; President Artemesian Literary Society, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 2, 3, 4; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 2, 3, 4; Reporter Paracelsus Society, 2; Pre-Med Society, 2; Western Club, 2, 3, 4; Secretary Girls' Student Council, 2; Dramatic Club, 3; Head Proctor Girls' Student Council, 3; Work Shop, 4; Track Team, 3, 4; Hiking Club, 4.

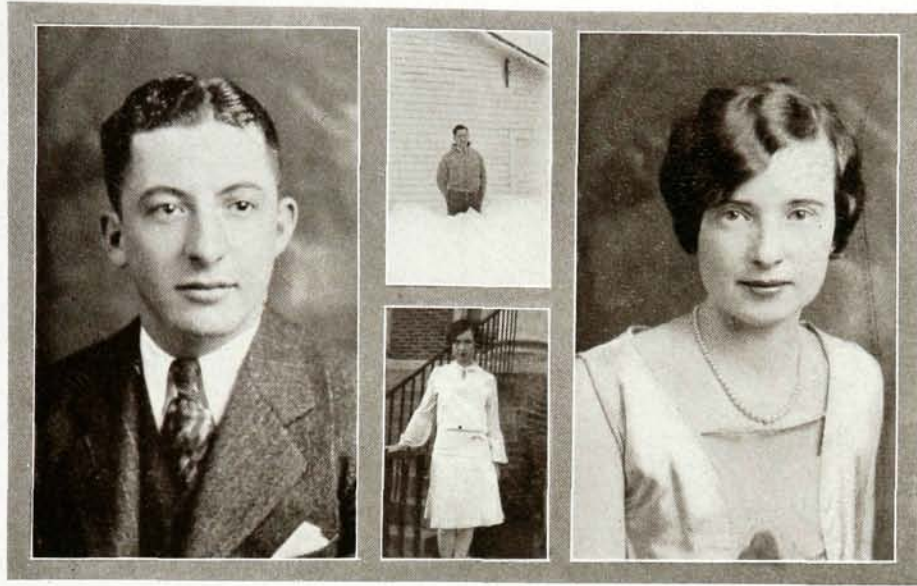

Bessie is one of the best all-round girls on the campus. Her popularity is attested to by the offices she holds in the various organizations of the campus, and by the vast number of students who are pleased to call themselves her friend. Bessie is active in the literary society, being president of one of the two girls' societies; is a star of the girls' track team; is much interested in the social life of the school; and it must be admitted that she makes passing grades on all her classes. Her motto seems to be, "My friend, what I have is ours."

JACOB ROBINOWITZ, B.S.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Business Manager "Torch," 1; Thalean Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Pre-Med Club, 2, 3, 4; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 2, 3, 4; Guilford County Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Jakie" is a familiar name on the campus of High Point College. Everybody likes him. His ready smile and friendly manner accounts for his large number of friends. However, Jakie is more at home in the science laboratory than he is in any class room. Delighting in scientific experiments, he spends much of his time among test-tubes and chemicals. Jakie—a possessor of those rare qualities which enable him to do thoroughly what he sets out to do. This ability combined with a scientific thirst leads us to predict a brilliant and striking future for him in the field of science.

Senior Class

JAMES PORTER ROGERS, B.S.

BURLINGTON, N. C.

Iota Tau Kappa; Akrothianian Literary Society, 3, 4; Alamance Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Pre-Med Club, 3, 4; Varsity Football, 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Basketball, 1; President Alamance Club, 1; Secretary Alamance Club, 3; President Monogram Club, 3; Second Vice-President Class, 3; Dramatic Club, 3; College Band, 2; Class Prophet, 4; Athletic Editor "Hi-Po" 4; Athletic Editor "Torch," 1; "Hi-Po" Reporter, 3.

Brilliant intellect, ready wit, pleasing personality, and energy combined—that's Jimmie. His chief characteristic is determination, and when a position demanded a man with shrewd business judgment, Jimmie was usually chosen. Always cool, apparently taking his time about everything he is the kind who knows the right thing to do at the right time. Jimmie will not be forgotten by those fortunate enough to have known him and associated with him. He has made a success in the class room, on the gridiron, and wherever else he has happened to be, and we predict that this same success will characterize him in whatever he may do after graduation.

GENEVIEVE GERTRUDE RULE, A.B.

JAMESTOWN, N. C.

Sigma Alpha Phi; Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Guilford County Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society 4; Razzler Club; Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Razzler Club, 4; Cheering One Hundred, 3; Track Team, 4; Hiking Club, 4; Class Statistician, 4; Editor-in-Chief "Zenith," 4.

The "Golden Rule" is a splendid rule to know, especially when it is golden in Gertrude's inimitable way. From the gold of her hair, to the pure gold of her character, thoughts, ideals, and abilities, one easily sees why the Class of '28 has never discarded one Rule anyway. Conscientious and capable in her scholastic work, dependable in all she undertakes, she was wisely chosen editor of our annual and class statistician. Her quiet modesty is a shield for her sensitive nature; her thoughts shield her dreams; her personality expresses her character. A ready wit and keen sympathy complete the picture of our own Rule who affords us unexpected vistas of realms of pure gold.

Senior Class

CORNELIUS D. SIDES, A.B.

CONCORD, N. C.

Delta Alpha Epsilon: President Thalean Literary Society 4; President Paracelsus Scientific Society, 3; Panthers Band, 3, 4; Western Club, 3, 4; Reporter Paracelsus Scientific Society, 4; Pianist Thalean Literary Society, 4; Kappa Phi, 3; Class Treasurer, 4; Football Squad, 1, 4; Secretary Thalean Literary Society, 3; Dramatic Club, 3; Reporter Thalean Literary Society, 2.

Nick is a man who never desired responsibility, but has had it entrusted to him because of his congenial disposition and dependability. His loyalty to the Thalean Literary Society is excelled only by his work on the Senior Memorial Gate. His motto, "Does It Pay," can be noticed in every phase of his work. Nick is a lover of music, and his greatest ambition is to become a pipe organist. Success is a secret with Sides. We never know where to look for him, but the world will soon learn of his secret ambitions. Always busy, never losing a day or night.

MAY SNIPES, A.B.

HILLSBORO, N. C.

Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2; Nikanthan Literary Society, 3, 4; Treasurer Nikanthan Literary Society, 3; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 1, 2, 3.

Perhaps what has impressed us mostly about May in the years that she has been with us can be summed up as follows: her non-tiring readiness to lend help to those who are in need, her thorough devotion to the guitar and banjo, and her ever-increasing love for reading. When these traits are mixed with gentle dignity and genial good nature, we cannot help but find a lovable character in May.

She is an everlasting friend to those whom she grows to love. Latin is her slogan. Many good wishes go with her.

Senior Class

ERMA SUITS, A.B.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Guilford County Club, 2, 4; Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2; Nikanthen Literary Society, 3, 4; Choral Club, 2; Dramatic Club, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President Girls' Day Student Government, 4.

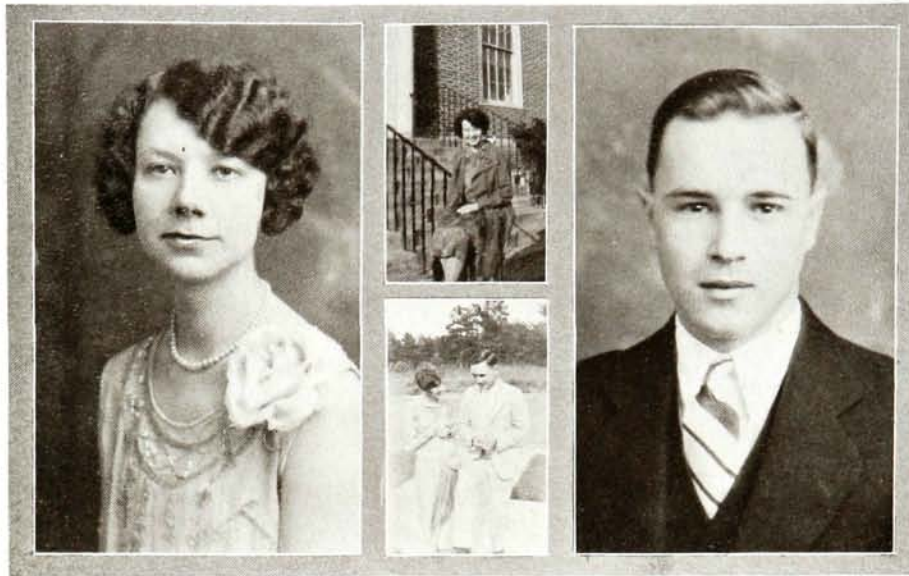

Here comes one of our day students! That makes no difference, however, in her class relations. Those who know her have learned that she possesses some very rare qualities. Erma is a conscientious girl to whom a job is a job to be done well, whatever it might be. She is very industrious and delights in the household arts. Take note, young man! Yet her abilities do not end here; she is also interested in dramatics and possesses remarkable dramatic ability. Here's happiness to you, Erma; you have the qualities that are essential for success. May it be yours, too!

PAUL SWANSON, A.B.

WILKESBORO, N. C.

Guilford College, 1, 2, 3; Akrothianian Literary Society, 4; College Track Squad, 4; Christian Endeavor, 4; Y. M. C. A., 4; Western Club, 4.

Although Paul just entered our class for our last year he is no stranger at High Point. He is a quiet, congenial sort of fellow and has shown us that actions speak louder than words, for we have found him "promptly-on-the-spot" when there is anything to be done. We are glad he came to Twenty-Eight. He is a friend on whom you may depend. His athletic interest centers in track. He puts his creed into his deed, nor speaks with double tongue. We predict success for Swanson in his legal career.

Senior Class

LAURA ELLEN THOMPSON, A.B.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Sigma Alpha Phi; Secretary Class, 1, 2; Secretary Guilford County Club, 2; Christian Endeavor 1, 2, 3, 4; Head Proctor, 2; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 2, 3; Vice-President Nikanthan Society, 3; Nikanthan Literary Society, 3, 4; Assistant in Home Economics Department, 4; President Modern Priscilla Club, 4; President Woman's Student Government, 4.

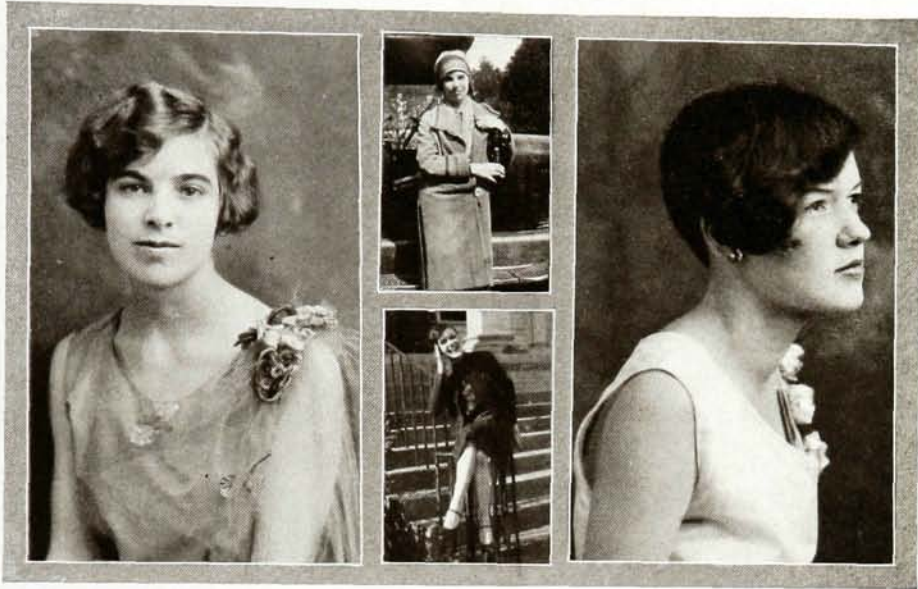

"A perfect woman nobly planned" whose simplicity is characteristic of noblest womanhood, whose poise lends charm to her natural abilities. She is a leader, a scholar, and a helper. We wonder if the sight of "wood" is an adjunct to her natural-born home economics ability. Even so, we have no fear of Laura missing the best in all that is good and admirable. The ties of her friendships are as fast as the waves of her hair, and the light of her smile is rivaled by the tone of her voice. Above all, Laura is a follower of the gleam.

RALPH H. VANCE, A.B.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Thalean Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Panthers Band, 2, 3, 4; Guilford County Club, 1, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 4; Kopo, 2; Class President, 2; Thalean Literary Society President, 3; Thalean Literary Society Secretary, 2; Critic Thalean Literary Society, 2; President Guilford County Club, 4; Secretary Panthers Band, 4.

Features worthy of the Greek immortals, a friendly but nevertheless reserved bearing, and a somewhat serious outlook on life are the leading characteristics of this son of High Point. A leader, a student, and withal a first class college man his record is an enviable one. His honors and achievements stand out and bespeak his character and ability. One of the most likable men in college, he makes friends with whomever he comes in contact, and is universally popular. Because we know him and because of his record, we recommend Ralph to the world as one destined to succeed, and one who will bring honor to High Point College.

Senior Class

MARY LELIA WAGONER, A. B.

BROWN SUMMIT, N. C.

Sigma Alpha Phi; Artemesian Literary Society, 2; Nikanathan Literary Society, 3, 4; Christian Endeavor Society, 2, 3, 4; Treasurer Christian Endeavor Society, 3; President Christian Endeavor Society, 4; Spanish Club, 4; Dramatic Work Shop, 4; Student Volunteer Band, 4; Christian Endeavor Extension Club, 4.

"Little of stature, big in heart, kind and sweet in disposition; always ready to do her part." Such are Lelia's characteristics, yet they don't fully describe her. Lelia is just "different." There is something about her lovable personality that belongs to no one else in the world. She is a person who possesses initiative and beautiful character. She never fails when duty calls for her service, and the religious organizations, as well as others on the campus will have an empty place that will be hard to fill as she goes forth in service at home or in foreign fields.

MARY EUGENIA WOOLLEN, A. B.

HIGH POINT, N. C.

Sigma Alpha Phi; Artemesian Literary Society, 1, 2, 4; Guilford County Club, 1, 2, 4; Treasurer Class, 1; Christian Endeavor Society, 4; Work Shop, 4; Paracelsus Scientific Society, 4; Glee Club, 4; President Hiking Club, 4; Captain Razzers, 4; Class Testator, 4.

Serious or fanciful as the mood strikes her, May is ever the reserve, sensitive, versatile, capable, and charming young dreamer—a dreamer who delves deeply into the mysteries of life and universal qualities, but who always presents to the public her serious smile and unvarying cheerfulness. She is a scholar in the deepest sense of the word—an explorer into the realms of philosophy and truth for her personal satisfaction. Yet what more whimsical, carefree, lovable companion could one desire? She is the ideal friend with whom one loves to share the mysteries of a gray day; swing along the open road; share with her the glow of one's campfire. Briefly she is a dependable friend, of "the stuff out of which dreams are made."

Class Poem

Come, see the master builder as he stands
Before the work he fashioned with his hands!
With care and pride and loving thought,
Rare bits of stone and glass he's brought.
Each piece he took and placed it with much care
Until an urn he'd made of beauty rare.
Thus wrought he well until at last he saw
Mosaic urn without a single flaw.
There stood the urn the while a whole year flew,
Until a passerby, whom no one knew,
With careless hasty hands brushed it aside
And into different bits 'twas scattered wide.
Now see the master builder patient stand
And gather all the pieces with his hand;
Again with loving thought and skillful art,
He fashions o'er each tiny different part,
Until at last we see the urn once more,
A perfect thing from beauty's varied store.
A pattern of the first, yet different far,
As stars are like, yet different from each star.
The caravan of time again moves on
Until the second year has come and gone.
The lovely patterns gleaming on the vase
Attract and center every person's gaze.
Then fate, with strong and wilful hands once more
Swept it aside and dashed it to the floor.
The pieces lying there were changed and made
To other shapes and forms, and there they stayed
To wait the coming of the master man,
Who grieved to see this breaking of his plan.
With loving labor truly fine and strong
He set to work amid the busy throng—
Excelled his work of both the years before
And gave the world a knowledge of his lore,
By showing all who saw, how this new urn
From broken far-flung bits anew could burn
With beauty's flame, like as the leaping fire
From ashes springs and flames up high and higher.
So see this urn, a lesson true to all,
Of patient love a marvel to recall

To all who chanced to see it three times new,
Three times destroyed, thrice gained in beauty's hue.

The winds of time the third year swept away
And at its end by chance the winds at play
Picked up the urn and bore it on its wings
Until, grown tired, the lovely urn it flings
Aside, like children throw away a toy,
Which now no longer brings them any joy.
Far and wide the broken pieces flew,
Into the corners of the world they blew,
And when the master builder saw with pain
His work undone, his task he took again
And from the corners of the earth he sought
The scattered fragments on which he had wrought

With care and toil. But some were lost to view
And in their place he set some pieces new.
With finished skill and steady artful hand,
He set with all the skill at his command
A pattern new. A master-piece of skill,
He made this urn so lovely hearts stood still.
Each piece was fitted aright,
It seemed a lovely symbol of his might.
The threads of time spun out and fate let slide
A year of beauty, love, and joy beside,
Before the threads of time the fates now clipped
And from its place the perfect urn was slipped.
This time the urn, just as it hit the earth—
So much it had absorbed its maker's worth—
It fell in many patterns rare and lone,
Yet each a perfect pattern of its own.
Each piece of others borrowed tiny bits
And to itself the other's beauty fits.
Each piece is stamped like to the master's soul
And each out in the world stars to its goal.
The master-builder views them from his height
And pleased he is with what now meets his sight;
Each piece he moulded thrice into the urn,
That each might with the other's beauty burn
Until, work done, each piece alone could stand
A perfect unit by the Master planned.

CLASS SONG

*The end of one journey we sing of tonight,
Of friendships, and knowledge, and partings so near;
With hopes and high courage our spirits are bright,
Oh, come now and join us in words fraught with cheer.*

*With mem'ries of school days which now thrill each heart,
We turn to the future and what it may bring;
We face new adventures as now we must part,
But long may these mem'ries through all our lives ring.*

*"To serve, not to be served," we took as our theme,
In friendships, and school work, and now do we sing;
The same shining motto, still follow its gleam,
Through life's need for service its challenge will ring.*

Senior Class History

IT was a social hour, to be sure, but it was different from all the ones that had preceded it. As was the usual custom he had walked over to Woman's Hall at 4 o'clock and found her waiting.

"Suppose we take a stroll out toward the gate," he said, "I want to tell you something about our class, and its sojourn at High Point College."

"I'd be delighted," she said.

He offered her his arm, and they strolled out to the gate. They seated themselves at the foot of the gate and he began:

"Well, to go back to the very beginning, it was in the fall of 1924 that we arrived here. There were seventy-four of us who had that peculiar and pleasant privilege of being the first freshman class to register at High Point College. With no precedents and no traditions to follow, we set about to establish them.

At our second class meeting we decided to leave as a memorial a large brick gate here at this entrance. The estimated cost in round numbers was $175.00. We set about by selling ice cream, having tag day, and various ways to raise the necessary amount. The first year was eventful, not so much for the knowledge we gained, but for turnip patch raids, painting of numerals, founding of organizations, and the introduction to the fundamentals of what college life should be.

When we came back the next year, as sophomores, we had not only lost a part of our freshness, but a number of our classmates as well. We were only fifty-five strong now, but we were sophomores and we were not the only ones who knew it, for we had another freshman class at the college that year.

Our Junior year found us with fifty members, still struggling to raise the necessary amount of money to erect the memorial gate. The proceeds from several plays proved helpful, but insufficient to make the gate a reality instead of a dream.

Now we have come to the present year when the forty-five who have stuck through the foregoing years are honored by being called Seniors and have before them the prospect of going out into life in the very near future. Some of our band will be remembered for their wonderful athletic feats, others for their powerful oratory and active leadership in the various student activities of the college. The entire class looks with pride upon the marvelous growth of its Alma Mater. We have seen rough brick and mortar transformed into beautiful buildings. We have seen mud puddles evolved into a beautiful campus, but above all, we have seen High Point College meet the state requirements of an A-grade college, and as a result of this achievement we are able to go out to take up life's work on an equal footing with graduates of other higher institutions.

In athletics the graduating class has been outstanding, and has been represented in every branch of sport at High Point College. In the intercollegiate debates our class has also been a leader.

The graduating class looks with pride upon the literary societies that were organized under its leadership, and especially this beautiful gate which has been erected and paid for at a cost of $900. By building this gate we have set a precedent that the other classes are following and we hope that after all, our labors at High Point College have not been in vain.

At this moment in his discourse they heard voices coming from the steps of Roberts Hall. They listened, and they heard something like this:

*"We praise thy name, and honor truth, they stand for loyalty and love,
May yours be fame, to you is due,
For you we'll always fight, we want the right
To uphold your standards high, to give the best we have to thee,
Memories of you we will cherish,
H. P. C.*

They arose and standing with bowed heads remained silent till the echo of the last refrain had died away in the distance.

"I see I have a rival," she said.

"Yes," he replied. "I shall always be true to my Alma Mater."

Class Prophecy

HAVING attempted a four-year experiment on the possibility of acquiring a certain amount of knowledge, it must be admitted that the task has been too much for me. The individual capacity cannot be exceeded, and the attempt has proved almost fatal. In the course of this process, however, it has been my good fortune to stumble upon the formula of a compound which has baffled scientists throughout the world in their attempts to discover its composition and properties. Its composition I shall withhold, but its properties are such that to fail to disclose them would be almost criminal.

"Alcophine," as I have named this compound, is a colorless liquid which vaporizes readily when exposed to air. Its vapors, when inhaled, have the remarkable power of clothing the mind with a far-sightedness that surpasses the wildest flights of human imagination. The method of preparation has been destroyed through my own carelessness, but if the contents of this vial suffice to carry me through a prediction of the future of my classmates, with enough remaining to make it possible for me to perceive again the means of preparing another portion of the same compound, I shall be grateful.

With a few large sniffs, I will proceed, and as best I can, foretell the future of those with whom I have so diligently struggled in my quest for learning. (Sniff, sniff, sniff). There, I am leaving you. Far, far into the future I am able to see and recognize the realization of their fondest hopes, and some, perhaps, not so fond.

J. Elwood Carroll has become head of the Department of Home Economics at Bryn Mawr College. It might have been expected that the fair sex would play a major part in the future of Dr. Carroll. However, he is not alone in this affectation, for Floyd Garrett is head of the Department of Voice Culture at the same school. These two are good examples of failures, according to the doctrines of Rev. Raymond Hallock, who has advanced to the pinnacle of fame through his exploitation of the fair sex from his pulpit in the largest denominational church in New York City.

Lillian Buckner cannot deny that her career as a lyceum pianist has not been successful. After having accumulated considerable wealth in her profession, she has settled down to a quiet life of domestic tranquility in Morgantown, W. Va. Now, she is firm in her belief that Patrick Henry, like herself, had a reason when he said, "Give me liberty or give me death."

The Chief of the Staff of Surgeons of a certain large dog and cat hospital is Fred Hauser, better known as "Boob." Having made good in the veterinary field, he is now attracting attention as an authority in the world of animal surgery. Without attaching any significance to the fact, it might be said that Vista Dixon is head nurse in the same institution.

(Sniff, sniff).

Gertrude Rule, who made herself famous as a publications editor by her work on the ZENITH, is now editing the magazine section of the Jamestown Blade. Her recent criticism of political corruption is expected to aid materially in her coming campaign for the office of mayor in that city.

THE ZENITH, NINETEEN TWENTY-EIGHT

Joe Holmes has always been known for his ability to handle the fair sex. Following up his talent, he is now dividing his time between the practice of law and lecturing for the W. C. T. U. on the "Inevitable Result." In another year he will retire and go to Randleman, where he will operate a sheep farm.

To foretell the future of Lois Coble does not require any keen sense of intellect or foresight. She has taken it upon herself to fill the shoes of Miss Mary Elizabeth Young as Dean of Women at High Point College. There is no doubt but that she is entirely capable.

G. W. Andrew, after having attained his degree of Doctor of Divinity, has returned to his native state and become head of the Theological Seminary of the largest church school in Indiana. One of his pet policies is catering to the preparation of missionaries to Kentucky.

R. L. Hill, better known as "Monk," formerly cherished an ambition to become a coach, but for some unknown reason he has entered politics, and is now holding the important office of mayor of the city of Graham. "Monk's political aspirations are destined to be successful.

Consequent to his association with "Monk" Hill, "Nick" Sides has also relinquished a former aspiration for political success. As mayor of Mebane, N. C., he is promoting a civic program which will insure domestic tranquility for the benefit of his fellow sufferers.

(Sniff, sniff).

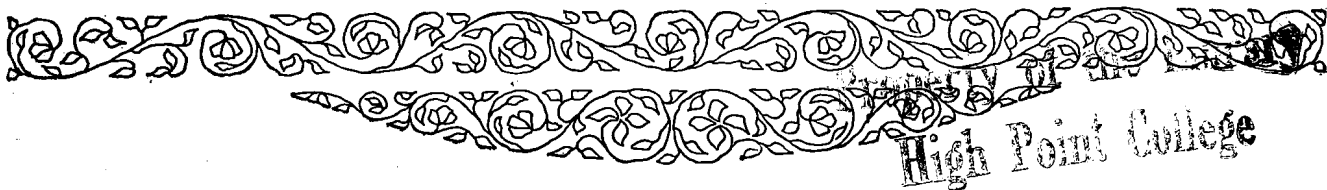

Bessie Redwine has become one of the foremost woman politicians ever known. She was always proud of her name, and hoping to perpetuate it in the minds of the multitudes, she has become a professional campaigner for presidential candidates who have a wet plank in their platform.

Jacob Robinowitz once aspired to be a famous surgeon in Johns Hopkins Hospital, but at last he has succumbed to the desire to watch the "Brownies" roll over the counter. He has succeeded in putting his father out of business by becoming a large factor in the founding of the Robinowitz and Lemons Emporium. The Lemons of this firm is Raymond Lemons, of our class of '28, another "would be" surgeon, who finds the clothing business more profitable. I hope "Dink" will not succeed in putting Jakie out of business.

Out in the West we find another member of the class of '28. It's Ralph Vance, and he has become a Mormon. Wonder what he wants with more than one wife?

Coming back to our native state, we find Ptylla Bingham doing his bit to promote the best interests of civilization. Ptylla was always a great admirer of Luther Burbank and is following closely in his footsteps. He promises the world a new kind of blackberry—one that will not be green when it is red.

Poor Helen Hayes! She always tried so hard to retain her slim, boyish figure, but she has failed. She gained 487 pounds the first six months after she and "Bill" Lewis severed friendly relations, and she was able to begin taking nourishment again. She is now appearing in an exhibition of freaks at Madison Square Garden.

THE ZENITH, NINETEEN TWENTY-EIGHT

(Sniff, sniff.)

Spencer Cutchin did not surprise us when she captured all woman's honors in the last Olympic games. Since becoming a professional athlete she has broken world's records in everything except the javelin throw. She seems unable to grasp the thing.

Ruby Isley has become a famous novelist, and critics acclaim her as being far superior to Elinor Glyn. We are not surprised at Ruby, for she always was appealing for something.

Alma Lambeth is now heading a nation-wide matrimonial bureau, and her past success was sufficient to induce "Pat" Paschall to make application for the first blond that enrolled. His application is still on file.

Through the influence of Glenn Madison, who was disappointed in love, and is now directing choruses for Ziegfeld's Follies, Minnie Caffey holds the spotlight on the dancing stage of the metropolis. Her success she attributes to the untiring co-operation of Prof. Pugh while at High Point College.

(Sniff, sniff.)

Jimmie Ellington, lightweight boxing champion of the world, is known to the followers of the leather-pushing profession as the man who is always seeing "Red"—therefore, always dangerous. His heavyweight aspirations will fail to materialize, however.

Unless we keep our radios tuned off of WJZ, we are destined to hear the familiar voice of Paul Swanson, announcer for that station. Of course, we congratulate him on his choice of professions because radio announcers are universally beloved.

May Woollen has at last made her talking useful. She has signed a life-time contract with the Victor Talking Machine Company, and will spend the remainder of her earthly existence speaking into a horn. She is recording a series of "Helpful Household Hints for Homely Husbands."

Among the numerous other celebrities produced by the Class of '28, we are justly proud of Erma Suits. Since becoming a professional bathing beauty and artists' model she has walked off with more honors than could be loaded in the rumble seat of a Chrysler roadster.

(Sniff, sniff.)

All of our classmates, however, have not enjoyed the good fortune of the majority. Lucile Morrison, for instance, has failed in every attempt she has made to pass a course in graduate work. We sympathize with her, though, for we know that she tried hard enough, even if she couldn't make a passing grade.

"Lucky at cards—unlucky at love" is a familiar saying, and the truth is borne out by the fact that Max Parrish has become a woman-hater and a professional gambler. The next time he breaks the banks at Monte Carlo he is going to donate a music building to High Point College.

Shall we say that the intellect and uplift of this class is confined within the borders of our own nation? Certainly not, for five of our most far-sighted co-eds have extended their activities to the Fiji Islands and the natives are about to get wise to themselves. Feeling that the age-old custom of eating their victims without any show of table-manners was grossly inconsiderate of the natives, Laura Thompson, Lillie Mae Braxton, Annie Livengood, Dora Pearson and Effie Keck have initiated a movement which will eventually result in the placement of proper table settings in every household, and every member of the family a living personification of Emily Post's Book of Etiquette.

(Sniff, sniff.)

J. H. and L. C. Kress, who recently established themselves in business in the downtown district of New York City, are spending their time regretting a certain fire sale which never materialized. They are not wholly cut off from their former acquaintances, however, because Canary Johnson is doing a 20-year term in the same institution for her imperfect attempt to impersonate a "Flapper Bandit." Canary will return to Seagrove for her next attempt, provided a bank or a post-office has been established by that time.

Unable to resist the impulse, Virginia Pickens is now a registered druggist and business woman, but she is not the sole proprietor of the firm.

Ruth and Annie Lee Jarrell, who are now playing Keith's circuit as a dancing team, attribute their poor success to the fact that they were unable to obtain a competent instructor while attending High Point College, where they majored in dancing. This particular department, however, is no longer liable to such criticism, since Aileen Hendricks was elected to succeed Prof. Yarborough as head instructor of the art of classic terpsichore.

(Sniff, sniff.)

May Snipes, whose greatest care was always for her fellowman, has returned to the mountains of Hillsboro to do educational and missionary work among the natives. It is her firm belief that the presidential possibilities of her native heath have never been fully recognized.

Matrimony has its charms for most girls, and we believe that Lelia Wagoner is no exception. Since she has become such a proficient horsewoman, and has been engaged to instruct the Prince of Wales in the proper manner of alighting as well as riding, rumors have been flying thick and fast. Oh, well! I suppose we could tolerate some royalty.

And now, let me tell you of—sniff, sniff, sniff—curses! What have I done that my sniffing potion should be entirely used up and my own future withheld? But it doesn't matter. Was it Kipling who said: "A rag, a bone, and a hank of hair"? I must go to work.

Statistics

MOST words found in any language have a meaning of some kind. This does not mean that they must be translated into another language to convey what they stand for. Simpler words of the same language can easily give their meaning.

It is hard for us to learn the scientific names of flowers, so we usually use a common name. People are given names which are easily pronounced and understood. Names which are connected with certain people come to have specific meanings. During the four years that the members of the Class of 1928 have been here they have created meanings for their names.

I have been told that the meanings which I have given to the names of the various members of this class are absolutely false. However, I will present these meanings to you and leave you to decide whether I have been at fault in my judgment.

THIS IS A DICTIONARY OF THE CLASS OF 1928

To me, G. W. Andrews means "deceitful."	L. C. Kress stands for pessimism.
Ptylla Bingham brings romance to my mind.	Alma Lambeth uses the most cosmetics.
Lillie Mae Braxton is a rebellious character.	Raymond Lemons is our most dignified.
Lillian Buckner is our most energetic classmate.	Annie Livengood is very frivolous.
Our biggest eye-talker is Minnie Caffey.	The name Glenn Madison means an athletic boy.
J. Elwood Carroll is the most effeminate boy.	Lucille Morrison is the friendliest.
Lois Coble, the biggest vamp.	Max Parrish is the most serious minded.
Spencer Cutchin, the most athletic girl.	Percy Paschall means popularity.
Vista Dixon means an opera star.	Dora Pearson is a noisy character.
James Ellington is systematic.	Virginia Pickens, the cutest.
Floyd Garrett, untidy.	The most disagreeable of our number is Bessie Redwine.
Raymond Hallock, a heart smasher.	Jacob Robinowitz is a salesman.
Fred T. Hauser, our most timid boy.	James P. Rogers means easily led.
Helen Hayes, fleshy.	C. D. Sides is a handler of money.
Aileen Hendrix, full of curiosity.	May Snipes, a lover—of Latin.
R. L. Hill is a bookworm.	Erma Suits is our best swimmer.
J. W. Holmes is our woman-hater.	Paul Swanson, the best basketball player.
Ruby Isley, a siren.	Laura Thompson signifies the biggest tom-boy.
The most punctual of our number is Annie Lee Jarrell.	Ralph Vance is our biggest talker.
Ruth Jarrell is most boisterous.	The name Leila Wagoner means "of great height."
Canary Johnson means "a regular dater."	Mary Woollen denotes complete attention.
Effie Keck is the most affable member of the class.
J. H. Kress stands for sympathy.

Whether I have been false or true, the meanings here given are not the final authority, and may be changed if desired.

Last Will and Testament

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
COUNTY OF GUILFORD.

We, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-eight, being of sound mind, memory, and understanding, and being cognizant of the irregularity and pitfalls of this earthly existence, do make and declare this, our last will and testament, hereby declaring void any and all wills heretofore executed by us. As to such estate as the Fates have allowed us to accumulate, we make the following disposition, viz:

SECTION I.

Article 1. We desire that our executor, hereinafter named, see that our funeral services be directed in accordance to the wishes of our friends and relatives. We would like to make the special request, however, that the faculty of the college have charge of all funeral sermons and talks.

Article 2. With the money left in the treasury after the funeral expenses and the cost of the senior gate is met, we desire that he buy chocolate milks to be distributed in both dormitories nightly.

SECTION II.

Article 1. To the present Junior Class we bequeath the right to perch on each side of the senior gate in case the lamps burn dimly and they feel that a little added brilliance is necessary.

Article 2. To the Sophomore Class we will those great treasure store houses, our theses, over which we have labored so long and earnestly. We hope that they will be able to appreciate the true genius which lies in these our masterpieces.

Article 3. We give to the Freshmen our part in the green fuzz now spreading over the face of the campus. We fondly hope that they will love, cherish, and watch each tiny blade as we have done.

THE ZENITH, NINETEEN TWENTY-EIGHT

SECTION III.

Article 1. Gertrude Rule wills her hay fever to Paul Freeman, with the fond hope that since all else fails, tears may move the fair ladies.

Article 2. Helen Hayes and Vista Dixon rather reluctantly bequeath their intense admiration and adoration for Miss Mary E. Young to all incoming Freshmen of next year, to be divided equally among them.

Article 3. Raymond Hallock leaves to the college a set of rather cumbersome volumes entitled, "The First Duty of Man," or "Love and How to Keep Its Spark Aglow After Marriage." These are to be placed in the library for the use of all.

Article 4. G. W. Andrew wills his preaching ability to D. D. Broome.

Article 5. Annie Lee and Ruth Jarrell and J. H. and L. C. Kress will their shining examples of family spirit to Elizabeth and Edna Nicholson and Tony and Theodore Antonakos.

Article 6. Boob Hauser, with a true helpful spirit, has consented to leave Professor T. C. Johnson his voice, since a few girls on the eastern end of the dormitory have complained that they have not heard quite all of his lectures.

Article 7. Lillie May Braxton, Ruby Isley, Annie Livengood, Effie Keck, Lelia Wagoner, and Erma Suits gladly give their knowledge of the domestic arts to Della Moore, because they feel that she will have more need for a domestic hand than the short hand over which she has labored so industriously this winter.

Article 8. To the poets of the school, Floyd Garrett wills the twilight green which he has discovered in Bristol glass.

Article 9. Laura Thompson, with true sympathy, leaves her bearing and forbearing to Pauline Whitaker.

Article 10. Lillian Buckner wills Ernest Blosser to Evelyn Gibson and Emma Lee Poole. Sole ownership of said gentleman is to be determined by a duel, and may the best man win.

Article 11. Joe Holmes impatiently gives his speed to H. E. Jones.

THE ZENITH, NINETEEN TWENTY-EIGHT

Article 12. Jimmie Rogers leaves his popularity with the fair sex to Ralph Mulligan.

Article 13. Canary Johnson willingly bequeaths her position as a teacher next year to the first promising applicant, since she feels that she herself will not need the position.

Article 14. To the proctors of the College, to aid them in keeping the halls quiet, Lois Coble wills her voice, with its similar cadences to that of Miss Young.

Article 15. To Jabus Braxton, Nick Sides wills his knowledge of human nature, and the pocketbook with which encounter with and mastery of the gate furnished him.

Article 16. Pat Paschall bequeaths to Graydon Ring his capacity for complete and sustained crushes, with the hope that he may soon become as proficient in the art as he.

Article 17. Alma Lambeth wills her dependability to Maggie Davis.

Article 18. The Student Volunteers will and bequeath their social hours with Grover Angel to the coming Student Volunteers.

Article 19. Monk Hill herewith wills his monograms and stars which he has earned as an athlete to Paul Brassler, since the poor boy can't seem to win any of his own.

Article 20. To Willie Fritz, Lucille Morrison leaves her brain power, with the hope that it will enable her to pass most of her work next year.

Article 21. Max Parrish willingly wills and bequeaths the managership of the Panther Pack to Jabus Braxton.

Article 22. Jacob Robinwitz leaves to Milbourne Amos his mantle of oratory.

Article 23. Spencer Cutchin wills to the Junior girls the memory of her diamond, with the fond hope that it may be an inspiration to them to look at it and do the best they can.

Article 24. J. Elwood Carroll bequeaths his sarcasm to Miss Mary E. Young.

Article 25. Virginia Pickens wills to Louise Holmes her part in a certain drug store, in order that that young lady may have all the sandwiches and drinks she desires.

THE ZENITH, NINETEEN TWENTY-EIGHT

Article 26. To the institution of High Point College, that it may ever be an inspiration to all incoming students, Paul Swanson wills and bequeaths his picture.

Article 27. Aileen Hendrix wills her mileage coming to and from school in the past four years to Jessie Blair.

Article 28. Dink Lemons reluctantly parts with his curling irons in leaving them to Cecil Wathan, with whom he has been using them in partnership during the past year.

Article 29. Bessie Redwine bequeaths her all-round qualities to Dot Hoskins.

Article 30. Dora Pearson and Glenn Madison will and bequeath to Mae Williams and Harvey Young their ability to create at the dining table a little seventh heaven of their own, wherein they live immune to all petty interferences from the outside world.

Article 31. Ptylla Bingham gives to the College his Sophomore Sonnet, to be framed and hung in the upstairs club room as an inspiration to all aspiring lovers.

Article 32. Jimmie Ellington wills his marked senior dignity to John Perry Dosier, hoping that he will cultivate the aforesaid quality.

Article 33. Mae Snipes wills and bequeaths all rights and privileges to the use of her last name to the present Freshman boys to be used in introducing the next year Freshmen to college life.

Article 34. To Charlie Lyles, Mic Caffey rather reluctantly bequeaths her vocabulary of words. She feels obliged, however, to withhold all words with more than ten syllables for her own use.

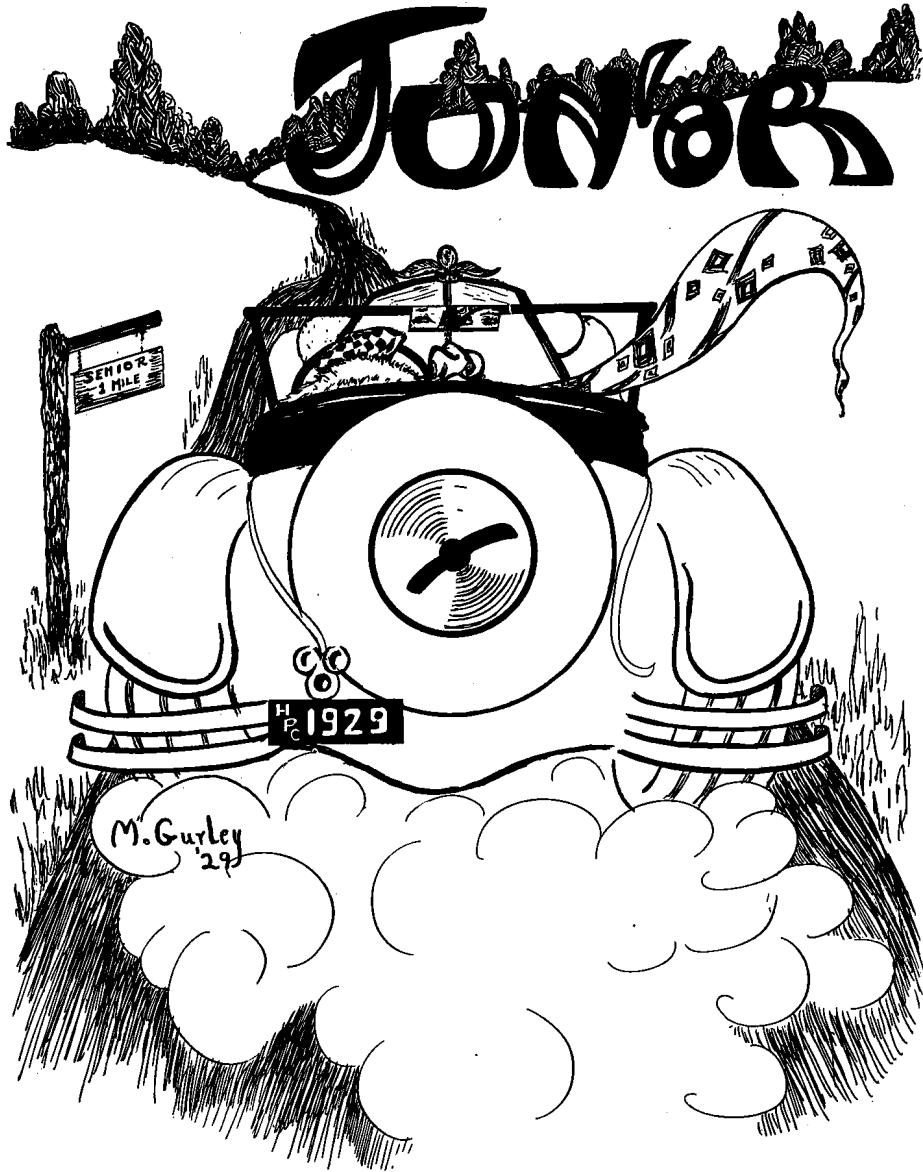

And we do hereby appoint Dr. S. S. Coe sole executor of this our last will and testament.

In witness whereof, we, the Class of Twenty-eight, the testators, have to this will set our hands and seal this the 26th day of May, Anno Domini, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight.

CLASS OF TWENTY-EIGHT.

School of Commerce

IF we lack commercial training, we are handicapped, no matter what may be our attainment. Without it, business prominence is impossible. How important, therefore, that we acquire not only a cultural but a commercial education as well—an education that will fit us for service in the world and give us an insight into the methods of successful business. Such an education is offered by the Commercial Department to every student anxious "to get on" in the world.

What makes a commercial education especially valuable, is that it is practical throughout. It does not concern itself with speculations, theories, or hypothesis, but strives to teach men and women to transact business in a businesslike manner, and it does this, not half-heartedly, but systematically and efficiently, by instruction in various subjects.

The Commercial Department gives the student, first of all, a real command of the language. It teaches him to increase his vocabulary, use the right word in the right place, and write tactful, convincing letters. It makes good business English its watchword and sets before the student high standards in expression and composition.

Commercial law is likewise recognized as a subject of vital importance. No matter what position a student will some day hold, whether it be in the fields of accountancy, salesmanship or banking, or whether he fills an executive position of prominence—no matter, where he may find himself and what kind of work he will be asked to do, a knowledge of commercial law will pave the way for bigger responsibilities and increased income. "Ignorance of the law excuses no one," but is often a prolific source of endless trouble.

Again: Shortland and typewriting receive that attention which is due them in this progressive and commercial age. No young man or woman of today can slight either of them, for the executives of today work fast. They want the man or woman who is swift, accurate and certain.

Closely allied to the latter is bookkeeping, familiarity with which is more important today than ever before. Everything is done systematically, both at home and in the office. Budgets are to be followed, accounts are to be kept, books are to be balanced. Today practically every business requires a man or woman to keep an accurate record of all financial transactions.

We thus see that the Commercial Department is purely practical, aiming to prepare young people for the activities of business life and the sound management of their own individual affairs. Its course of study embraces practically all those subjects required by all successful business men of today, and the whole system of instruction is characterized by that conscientiousness and thoroughness which is indispensable to efficiency and progress. Hence, to enroll in the Commercial Department is a long step in the right direction, the beginning of a preparation for a successful life.

COACH JACK BOYLIN

Coach Boylin came to High Point College in 1925. During his three years of service he has really put High Point College on the map. Coach is a man possessing a wonderful ability, an inborn sense of fair play, and a personality which attracts and fascinates the attention. He has established in High Point College a standard of athletics which not only develops the physical, but also the mental and moral sides of his athletes. He is a man of exemplary life and habits and stands for manliness, self-reliance and clean sportsmanship.

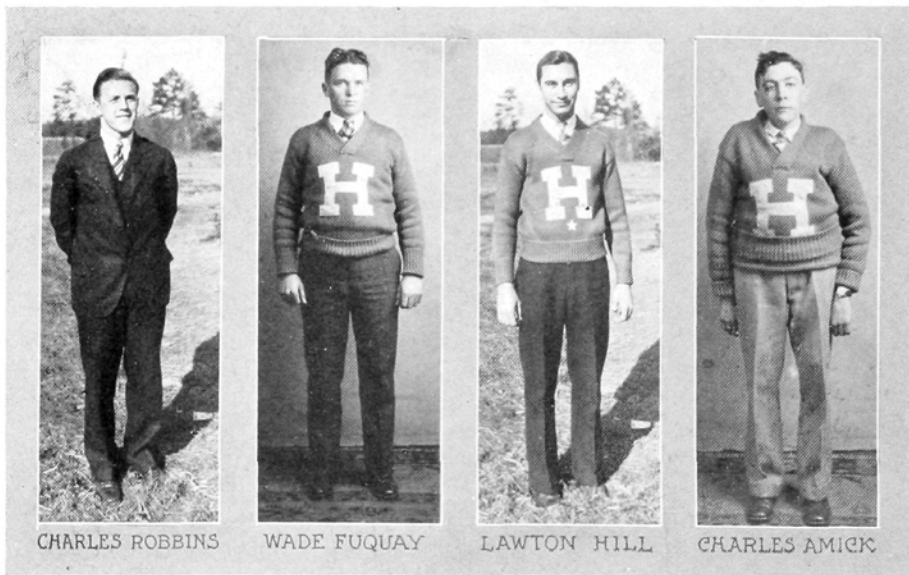

His "get in there and fight 'em team" helped High Point College realize its first Little Five championship. Other schools of the state, particularly the Big Five, are fast realizing that High Point College is rapidly coming to the front in athletics. Coach Boylin, the High Point College students are proud of you.

Sponsor

Miss Templin is from Champaign, Illinois, and is very prominent in social circles there. There is little wonder that Captain Heath chose her as sponsor for the 1927 football team. May the team always have a sponsor as attractive as Miss Templin.

CAPTAIN JOHN HEATH

"Johnnie" was one of the best backfield men ever to wear the Purple and White Jersey and his record at High Point College has been one that few moleskin wearers have ever challenged. Unfortunately injuries kept him out of the line-up for a part of the time though he always went in to stem the tide of threatening attacks. Johnnie looked his best against Lenoir-Rhyne and Guilford and makes the Zenith's All-Little Five team in a walk.

THE ZENITH, NINETEEN TWENTY-EIGHT

MICHAEL WITHROW

Looked upon as a third string man at the first of the season, Mike came forward rapidly and before half of the scheduled games were over, he was taking the field with the first team. The Fort Benning team was very emphatic in its praise of the "sorrel-top" player on the Panther eleven. There is little question but that Mike will be a regular next year.

VERNER NIGARD

Behind the moustache is a real, honest-to-goodness football player; a center of no mean repute. Nigard was handicapped with a bad ankle all season, but performed well in several important games. His best work was evident in the Guilford clash.

CECIL WATHEN

Kentucky may be known for her horses but we know her for Ceese Wathen, who came to High Point last year. Ceese was one of the smallest men on the team but he held down his position at guard like a giant. He always was one of the first down under a punt and when he tackled a man, the man stayed tackled. We want you back again next year, Curly.

J. RUFUS SNIDER

Kentucky again! At tackle Bob played a most consistent and aggressive brand of football all season. Big and powerful, his charging through time after time to break up plays won for him respect from his teammates, his opponents and the spectators. He could not be kept off the all-Little Five team.

ERNEST BLOSSER

Ernie Blosser has greatly strengthened the Panther squad this year by his good work at end. Blosser was chosen to play end on the Little Five mythical, and in our estimation he well deserves this honor. Nice going, Ernie.

FRANCIS HUTTON

Francis "Tiny" Hutton, the big man that played a whale of a game at tackle and thus won for himself a coveted place on the All-Little five. The work of Hutton has been a great help in annexing the championship this year.

THE ZENITH, NINETEEN TWENTY-EIGHT

CLIFFORD MITCHELL

Clifford "Tim" Mitchell, the little man with the Big Toe, played a bang-up game this year. When it comes to getting away punts Tim can take his place with the best of the punters in the Little Five. Tim won his first letter this year by his good work in the backfield. Good work, Tim.

LOUIS McFADDEN

Louis "Louie" McFadden, the little Irishman from Decatur, Illinois, played a fine game all season and was a valuable man to the squad with his passing and ability to side-step his would-be tacklers. Because he is a good player and a prince of a fellow, Louie is well liked by the team.

LEO METHOD

Leo, the big, powerful, plunging fullback, played a mean game all season. Unquestionably he can be considered among the best defensive men in the state. Leo's playing, along with his idea of sportsmanship, made him a favorite with both the team and the spectators. Leo looked plenty good against the Parris Island Marines and carried the ball across the goal line for the touchdown that enabled us to tie the strong Marine team.

KENTON HACKMAN

This tall youth came to High Point from Decatur High school of Illinois. His record there as an athlete was a good one. He was picked as a tackle on the second all-Little Five team and well he deserves such recognition. "Hack" looked especially good against Elon and Wake Forest.

JOHN DRIESBACK

The "side-steppedness fool" in the Little Five realms pictures Johnnie in good manner. Once this lad got past the line of scrimmage, he was gone like a bullet and few safety men could stop him. Johnny was placed on Coach Crawford's (Guilford) all-Little Five team, at a half-back position.

GEORGE RIDGE

"Tubby" Ridge, the boy that played at guard and gave his opponents a real treat when he hit their side of the line. Tubby is another one of those players who never gives up until the last whistle blows. Tubby will be back again next year to continue his good work with the Panthers.

THE ZENITH, NINETEEN TWENTY-EIGHT

ELWOOD CARROLL

Carroll is another guard who played a nice game and was a valuable asset in winning the championship. Carroll was always in there giving and taking, though generally giving more than he took. He thereby won for himself the title of the "Fighting Minister." This is his last year in school and coach will greatly miss him next year.

RICHARD MACMANNIS

Richard (Dick) MacMannis played a nice game at end this year, and was at his best in the Lenoir-Rhyne game. This is Dick's second year as a Panther and he has made his letter both years. His defensive ability makes him one of the most valuable men on the Panther squad.

JAMES ROGERS

Jimmy Rogers isn't the kind of a player that performs brilliant feats all the time, but just the same, Jimmy is a good consistent player. He does what he is supposed to do well, and as a result he is a member of the Monogram Club. Jimmy put more pep into the scrimmages than any other man on the squad. Everyone will miss Jimmy when he graduates this year.

HOBART THOMPSON

"Pat," alternate captain and tackle, is the fightingest Irishman that ever donned a Panther uniform. Pat played his best against the Marines, although it can be readily said that there is not an opposing lineman that does not remember him. Nice going this season, Pat.

RAY PERDUE

Although handicapped the last of the season with a bad knee, "Cotton" was one of our star performers and created quite a disturbance in the Guilford ranks on Armistice Day, when he collected three touchdowns. Ray was probably at his best against Hampden-Sidney. He is a two-letter man, although only a sophomore. Cotton's defensive ability never received the credit that it was due.

MICHAEL MATEER

Only an Irishman could have such a name, yet this Irishman was a good football player. He was somewhat of a triple-threat man, being able to kick fairly well, pass accurately and make consistent gains. This is Mike's first year as a Panther.

THE ZENITH, NINETEEN TWENTY-EIGHT

FRANK POLETZ

Besides being picked as halfback on the all-Little Five team, "Wop" was also picked by the Durham News as fullback on the second mythical all-state team. The writer of the News article praised Wop highly, saying that he compared with Jankoski of Duke. "Wop" is only a freshman and Coach Boylin is counting heavily on him next year. Poletz was at his best in the Wake Forest and Elon games.

RAY DIXON

"Every inch a football player," is what we have to say of Ray Dixon. This popular player was captain of last year's team. He started every game this year, playing defensively at end, and offensively at either guard or halfback. His all-around ability warrants him a position on the Zenith's all-Little Five team. Dick is a three-letter man and will be back again with us next year.

FRED HAUSER

"Boob," as we know him, closed his football career this year. His aggressiveness and ability as a center have earned the coveted "H" for him three years in succession. Boob was at his best in the Elon game. He was chosen by many sports writers as center on the all-Little Five team. Big Boy, we will miss you next year.

PAUL BRASSER

"Peanuts" was voted the best all-around athlete in the school, having made letters last year in football, basketball, and baseball. Until he was forced out this season with a badly injured shoulder, Brassier was going like a house afire and was causing much comment throughout the football circles in the state. Brassier is only a sophomore and much is expected from him in the next two years.

GAROLD GANOE

A whale of a little man characterizes Ganoe, who, although a Freshman, made his letter this year. His good work at the end position in the Guilford game caused much comment in the grandstands. In all probability this lad should be one of Coach Boylin's outstanding bets next fall.

HARTFORD CAMPBELL

"Hart" might be classed as a little big man because he carried the ball across the goal line twice this year. He got into nearly every game and looked his best against King college. Hart should give someone some stiff competition for the quarterback post next fall.

MRS. A. A. HILL

Sponsor

Mrs. Hill witnessed her first basketball game this year when she saw the Purple Panthers defeat the fast American University team of Washington, D. C. Since that game she has been a regular spectator, taking part in both the cheering and praise of her boy and his buddies. The team is glad to have you as sponsor of the first Little Six champs.

CAPTAIN "MONK" HILL

High Point College loses one of its greatest basketball players this year, when Captain Monk Hill will be lost by graduation. This three-letter star has been a constant thorn in the side of all opponents since his coming here four years ago. He has been captain in both football and baseball, and this is his third successive year as captain of the basketball team. We are proud to possess him as the captain of High Point College's first "Little Six" championship" basketball quintet; and, oh, how we will miss you next year, Monk! Out of all of Mank's girl friends he has chosen the one who is dearest to him as the team's sponsor—his mother.

THE ZENITH, NINETEEN TWENTY-EIGHT

RAY PERDUE

"Cotton," one of our few three-letter men, was one of our outstanding stars this year, being noted especially for his fighting and passing qualities. He was a scorer in all games but probably looked his best against Catawba College, when he brought the game out of the ice by caging three field goals in rapid succession. Cotton will be back again next year and that is something.

RILEY LITMAN

This little pug-nosed star hails from Uniontown, Pa., where he played as a high school cager. Riley, although a freshman, played in nearly every game and impressed Coach Boylin very favorably as a guard. It is very probable that he will fill Captain Hill's place at guard next year when the latter graduates. He is very aggressive and a very promising athlete.

PAUL BRASSER

Without "Old Ironsides," High Point could not have a basketball team. This little sparingly haired athlete is one of the best liked fellows on the team besides being one of its stars. Paul is also a three-letter man and when he laughs is when he is most dangerous. High Point is glad she has you for two more years, Brassier, old boy.

RALPH MULLIGAN

This is Mulligan's second year on the team and he still has two more years at High Point. He is sort of a handy man, playing both at guard and forward during the past season. He also hails from Uniontown, Pa.

THE ZENITH, NINETEEN TWENTY-EIGHT

“PAT” THOMPSON

Good old Pat, ain't he marvellful? This big Irishman was shifted to forward this year and well did he fill the job. He was a shining light in all of our games although he did not have as good a season at hitting the hoop as he did last year. However he more than made up for this by his clever floor work and passing, and that is that.

J. RUFUS SNIDER

This little fellow found it a hard job when it came to mixing with the big boys but he held his own wonderfully well and was one of our leading scorers. American University would no doubt have defeated us here had it not been for Bob, this popular athlete scoring twenty points. Coach Boyl'n also has this star to depend upon in the next two years.

ERNEST BLOSSER

Morgantown High School, in West Virginia, had a basketball team two years ago but it came to High Point College last fall in the person of Ernie Blosser. This is Bloss's second year on the team and he has filled every position but standing guard, and what we mean, he filled them well. He is a “center” attraction at social hour.

CLIFFORD MITCHELL

“Mitch” hails from Decatur, Illinois, where they make starch and basketball players, and although Mitch has plenty of the former we must place him in the latter class. Mitch was a whirl of an asset to our team this year and we won't soon forget his wonderful showing against Catawba College, when he scored five field goals in the first few minutes of the game and completely demoralized the Catawba cagers. Mitch is a typical Northerner though, because he must have his snow.

BETSEY DURLAND

There is no question but that the baseball team made a "big hit" when they selected Miss Durland for sponsor of this popular sport. This attractive young lady has a very charming personality and is exceedingly popular with the younger set of High Point. At every game, rain or shine, played on the local diamond, Miss Durland can be found in the grandstand cheering for the Purple Panthers.

CAPT. RAYMOND DIXON

Ray does not need any write-up. Everyone that knows him likes him and what more could be wished by any man? He is somewhat of a triple threat man in baseball, being a clever fielder, a consistent hitter, and a clever base runner. The team has a very tough schedule this spring and Ray is just the kind of a leader that can inspire his men to "put out" their best. Here's to their success on the Southern trip during the Easter holidays.

CAPT. RALPH MULLIGAN

Mulligan is the captain of High Point's first track team and it was wholly through his efforts that this sport was introduced in our institution. Mulligan was High Point's sole contestant in the state collegiate meet held in Greensboro last year and went to the finals in the 100-yard dash which was won by Currie of Davidson College, who broke the state record by running the distance in 9 and 3-5 seconds. The prospects are very good for the team this year and it is hoped that it will place near the top in all of its meets this spring.

Written by RAY PERDUE.

MISS ANNE CARTER MARSH

It is an honor for High Point College's first track team to have Miss Marsh as a sponsor. This charming young woman is very popular among the younger social set of High Point and is particularly interested in all Purple and White athletics. It is hoped that our first track team will be as successful in its meets as it was in its selection of a sponsor.

RALPH MULLIGAN

Coach of Girls' Athletics

Coach Mulligan instituted girls' track here last year for the first time, having a squad of twelve girls. This year nearly thirty girls reported. It is hoped that this form of athletics will be a forerunner of other branches of athletics in which the girls might participate. Coach Mulligan also was the sponsor of High Point College's first interscholastic track meet for girls, which from now on will be an annual affair.

CAPTAIN JUANITA AMICK

Juanita Amick was chosen captain of the girls' track team because of her great showing last year on the first girls' track team in the history of the college. In the interclass meet last year, Captain Amick was the highest individual scorer, winning the running broad jump, 75-yard dash, and baseball throw, and placing second in the high jump. The team this year promises to be much better than the one of last year, since many of the freshmen girls were stars on high school teams. Besides the interclass meet and the intersociety affair, it is hoped that the girls will be able to meet Catawba, Salem and other schools in dual meets. The second annual interscholastic girls' track meet for high schools will be held again this year on the local athletic field. The High Point High School team carried away the honors last year, with Concord placing second. The Max Rones cup must be won two years in succession before a school can claim possession to it.

Girls' Track Schedule

- March 30—Artemesians vs. Nikanthans.

"For Christ and the Church"

One of the largest and most active organizations on the campus is the Christian Endeavor Society. Organized on October 12, 1924, the society has done definite work under the able leadership of young people from church societies from many sections of the state. It has since become a very necessary part of the life of the students who soon learned to work together as one unit "For Christ and the Church."

Prayer meetings are held every Sunday evening during the college year and through these the students have learned to think more about their souls, life work, and individual problems, as well as national and international problems. They have learned each other better, and have been drawn in close fellowship with the Master more by the Christian Endeavor Society than by any other student organization.

The society has taken active part in the city union activities and foreign and home missions, having twice won the city union banner and is at present clothing an orphan in our own children's home and educating a boy in a Christian college in Japan. The extension club of the society organizes societies throughout the state. Although not definitely connected with any church, the society has taken part in many activities of the different churches in the city.

The society is the most representative organization of the college. Practically all the boarding students are members, and students from all classes and denominations take part. A fine spirit has been developed and much has been accomplished. We are glad to have a part in an activity in which we hope to be able to increase the cause of the Master, whom we are earnestly trying to serve.

Miscellaneous Clippings

HE IS IT

Freddie the frosh gave his fraternity pin to that young Davis kid who lived out on Kay street. One day last week when he called on her a new maid opened the door.

"Miss Frances is engaged, sir," said the maid.

"I know it," replied Freddie; "I'm what she is engaged to."

***

She: "Is it true that you intend to climb the library tomorrow?"

He: "No, ma'am! I couldn't do it."

"Why not?"

"Too many stories in it!"

***

"Jack: "Ma! Freddie's been hurt at football!"

Fond Mama: "Oh, dear, dear! What does the telegram say?"

Jack: "'Nose broken. How shall I set it—Greek or Roman?"

***

Miss Teacher: "Ralph, I am punishing you because I love you."

Mulligan: "Gee, teacher, I wisht I was big enough to return your love!"

***

ON HONOR

The Student: "Say, Myrtle, this honor system is sure some stunt. Yesterday the professor calls my roommate up to the desk an' says: 'Look here, Mr. Dummer, what authority was you quoting? Almost every sentence in your paper is inclosed in quotation marks.' An' Bill says back, 'Between you an' me, Pro., I was quotin' the fellow next to me.'"—Yale Record.

***

THE BOY WAS RIGHT

Last winter at college the temperature on three successive nights dropped to zero.

"That's nothing!" snorted Freddie the Frosh. "That's nothing!"

"What's nothing?" indignantly asked Sam the Senior.

"Zero!" remarked Freddie snappily, as he bolted the door.

The c'ass composition was on "Kings," and this is what one boy wrote:

"The most powerful king on earth is Wor-king; the laziest, Shir-king; one of the wor t kings, Smo-king; the wittiest, Jo-king; the quietest, Thin-king; the thirstiest, Drin-king; the slyest, Win-king, and the noisest, Tal-king."

***

A Chinese truckman in San Francisco sent the following bill to a grocer for delivering orders:

10 Goes

10 Comes

At 50c a Went . . . . . $5.00

***

A high school boy asked a librarian for a copy of "Veins and Adenoids." A search through books on physiology failed to reveal any such title. He was asked if he knew the author, and replied: "Why, Shakespeare, I guess." It was discovered he wanted "Venus and Adonis." This is comparable to the woman who wanted "She Sat in the Wood Box," which was found to be "The Satinwood Box."

***

Mrs. Worwelth: "When Johnson asked you if you liked 'Omar Khayyam,' you shouldn't have said you never drank it."

Mr. Worwelth: "Why not?"

Mrs. Worwelth: "Why, because it's not a drink, it's a cheese."

***

HIS EXPERIENCE

Freshman: "Did you ever read 'Looking Backward'?"

Sophomore: "Yeah, once in an examination, and got expelled."

***

BUDDING ENTOMOLOGIST

Mother: "Why is baby crying?"

Nurse (in next room): "He wants—"

Mother: "Well, give him what he wants."

The baby howls louder.

Mother: "Why, didn't you give him what he wanted?"

Nurse: "I did. It was a bee."

ANOTHER SUBJECT

Bobby, running breathlessly into the house from the school, exclaimed: "Oh, mother, I can write! See!" And he seized a piece of paper and scrawled on it.

"But, Bobby," asked his mother, "what does it mean?"

"Dunno," was the reply, "I haven't learned to read yet."

***

Juror: "I can't serve on this panel, Judge. Just one look at that man convinces me he is guilty."

Judge: "That's not the prisoner. That's the prosecuting attorney."

***

Frosh: "I think I've seen this play 'Asbestos' before."

Wise Soph: "Dog, don't show your ignorance. Asbestos is the Latin word for 'welcome'."

***

A man in a mental hospital sat dangling a stick, with a piece of string attached, over a flower bed. A visitor approached, and wishing to be affable, remarked: "How many have you caught?"

"You're the ninth," was the reply.

***

Philip: "I hate those revolving doors."

Morris: "So do I. You can't slam them when you're mad."

***

SUCH MONIKER

Clerk: "Your name?"

Gob: "C. Faring Mann."

Clerk: "I asked your name, not your occupation."

***

INHERITING TOO MUCH

"My dear boy, you have grown to be the living image of your father. You have your father's eyes, you have his nose, you have his mouth—"

Jimmy (gloomily): "Yes, and I have his trousers, too."

Poet: "My wife said this last poem of mine caused her heart to miss a beat."

Editor: "Rejected! We don't want anything that will interfere with our circulation."

***

SAFETY FIRST

"Mama, may we go down into the garden? They say there is a comet to be seen tonight."

"All right, go down, but don't go too near it."

***

Rastus, out in a boat with his best girl, Mandy, had been teasing for a kiss, but she refused again and again. Finally he became desperate. "Mandy," he threatened, "effen you don't lemme kiss you, I'se gwine to up:et dis here boat."

Getting home, Mandy told her mother all about it.

"An' did you let the gemman kiss you?" her mother asked.

"Well, did you all see anything in de paper dis mawning about two niggahs drownin'?"

***

Him: "You look like a sensible girl; let's get married."

Her: "Nothing doing. I'm just as sensible as I look."

***

NOT A LAY SUCCESS

A young country minister, noted for his jollity, was dining at a farmhouse one Sunday, and when his plate of roast chicken was passed to him, he remarked facetiously: "Well, here's where that chicken enters the ministry."

"Hope it does better there than it did in lay work," rejoined the bright boy of the family.

***

FULL OF EMPTINESS

Daughtery: "Noises in my head keep me awake."

Hardy: "That's impossible."

"How's that?"

"You can't transmit sound through a vacuum."—Tit-Bits.

Utility Service and the Community

More than any other one factor, the quality of its utility services determines the desirability and attractiveness of a community for business or as a place in which to live.

In industry and in the home the application of electricity to industrial and household operations is multiplying the effectiveness of the labor of the worker and relieving the housekeepers of drudgery and fatigue. And while it increases the efficiency of the individual, it raises the quality of the work accomplished as well.

We invite attention to the standard of utility services in the cities in which we supply these essentials to modern living and modern business.
